The 2016 edition of the VISSLA ISA World Junior Surfing Championship is the largest ever in the 37-year history of the event, featuring 371 surfers from 39 nations.

With Surfing's recent inclusion on the Sports Program of the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games, the competing junior surfers are a glimpse into the future of the Olympic surfers in 2020.

On the penultimate day of the 2016 VISSLA ISA World Junior Surfing Championship, Team France surged into the lead, putting themselves in position to make history and win their first-ever Team Gold Medal in the competition.

In the afternoon, Team Hawaii won the Gold Medal in the ISA Aloha Cup, the first Junior Gold Medal awarded in the era of Olympic Surfing. An event unique to the ISA, the Aloha Cup is a tag-team style competition featuring four boys and one girl from each team. Each athlete rides a total of two waves during the hour long Final, where the waves from all five team members are summed to get the total team score.
